We are a community of Martha women called to hear, embrace and respond to the cry of Gospel hospitality by: living in community with daily personal and communal prayer working for the development of persons responding to present needs in the mission of the church:

spiritual development, health and pastoral care services, social justice outreach, and ecological issues.

Our founding in 1900 was in response to the need for household management of St Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, Nova Scotia. Our motherhouse, Bethany, is located in Antigonish.

As Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, our charism, which God confided to Mary of the Passion, our Foundress, commits us to follow Christ and invites us to live in the fundamental attitude of Mary's ECCE and FIAT- she who offered her whole being in complete and loving disponibility - in faith and humble service. Eucharistic contemplation is the heart of our mission. Following in the footsteps of the poor and humble Christ, in simplicity, peace, and joy - we live and share in intercultural communities and in whatever mission we are called to serve.

We, the Daughters of Jesus (Les Filles de Jesus) are an apostolic congregation, present in 14 countries. We were founded in France, in 1834, to honor the Son of God who shared our human condition. Along with our Associates, we keep our gaze steadily upon Jesus, attentive to His words, His attitudes, His way of relating to people. We live close to people with a special compassion for the most deprived. We take a fundamental attitude that favors life, non violence, respect and peace. We work toward creating communities through communion, prayer, sharing and celebration. We collaborate with others to be a leaven in the world where freedom, justice and dignity will be restored.

The Sisters Adorers of the Precious Blood had their beginnings in St. Hyacinth, Quebec on September 14, 1861 when Mother Catherine Aurelia Caouette was called by God to found this first contemplative community in Canada. Constancy in prayer is our service to the Church. Always we acknowledge that all we have is the gift of loving, provident Father on whom we are all dependent. Several times each day we gather as a community to pray and plead for his people. Each Sister shares in the daily work of the Monastery which is done in a spirit of prayer. No talent is too great, no gift too small to be used in God's service. Our works help us to maintain our house of prayer where God's praises are sung daily.

The Sisters Faithful Companions of Jesus, an International order of religious women founded in France by Marie Madeleine d'Houet in 1820, strive to be companions of Jesus and of others and continually seek to be with Jesus in His mission of revealing God's saving love. The FCJ Constitutions affirm this: "The Father calls us to follow His Son in faithfulness, to stand at the foot of the cross with Mary and the other Holy Women, there, as Faithful Companions of Jesus, to be one with Him in His thirst for the coming of the kingdom."

The FCJ Sisters believe that "... it is not only what we do but more importantly who we are as we do it. Wherever we are and whatever our work, we are sent and our mission is to be faithful companions of Jesus." Currently, the FCJ Sisters throughout the world companion with others through education, spiritual direction, counseling, retreat work, pastoral care, prayer, refugee support and many other ministries.

Sisters of Charity of St. Louis: The Foundress, Mother St. Louis, opened a home in 1803, to give shelter and education to the numerous orphaned girls in Vannes, France after the French Revolution. Sisters arrived In Medicine Hat in 1912 opening the first Catholic School in January 1913 bringing faith & academic education. We continue to look to the needs of the Church in the service of education with special attention to the poor and marginalized in many areas of the world. From Regina to Vancouver, Sisters are involved in spiritual formation, counselling, prison and, parish ministry (First Nations, and inner city), food for the poor, pastoral care, home care and prayer ministry.

The Sisters of Providence are an apostolic congregation living in community and committed by vows of chastity, poverty and obedience. Our call is to show forth in our times the Providence of God and God's compassion after the example of Our Mother of Sorrows, who accompanied Jesus in his suffering and death. All the works of mercy, particularly ones for the basic unmet needs of the poor, are our works.

We Sisters of Social Service, are a community united in hope and dedicated to the Holy Spirit. Our Society was founded to give glory to God and to collaborate in the redeeming activity of Christ by witnessing to God's sanctifying love. We share in the social mission of the Church, which we see as embracing the many needs of society arising from social, religious, economic, environmental, cultural and civic conditions. We participate in the promotion of Christian social justice, especially in behalf of the family, the poor, and the alienated according to the directives of the Church. We seek to live an apostolic life that is permeated with the Holy Spirit, grounded in the spirit of St. Benedict, characterized by an informed social consciousness, and contemporary in our approach to life.

*We are a community of Benedictine women called to witness God's gracious presence by:
- building community wherever we are - praying the Liturgy of the*

*Hours- offering hospitality and extending peace
- responding to the changing needs around us in the fields of spiritual formation, health care and education.*

We seek God by living in this cenobitic community under the Rule of St. Benedict and a prioress. In response to the call of the Church this Benedictine tradition made its Canadian foundation in Winnipeg in 1912.
